Consistent research-driven innovation, agile adoption of new technologies and aggressive forays into new business segments and geographies have always been the key enablers of value creation at Ami Organics.

Notwithstanding headwinds in the operating environment, FY22 was a year of milestones for us. We began our maiden journey as a listed company in the financial year, with the overwhelming support of stakeholders. We also posted record revenue, driven by our impressive growth in the pharma intermediate business, coupled with the multi-time expansion of the specialty chemicals business due to the acquisition of facilities from Gujarat Organics.

Our integration of two facilities has also been completed, and our teams have shown the operational finesse to strengthen our operating margin during the year. We also successfully commercialised a few products using continuous flow technology, which validates our industry-leading technical capabilities.

We are young and energised to deliver and amplify value across every aspect of the operating canvas every day.

We have already embarked on a new capex journey to support the future growth of our Advanced Intermediates business. FY22 also saw us foray into Electrolyte Additive and became the first Indian and global company outside of China to successfully develop core Electrolyte Additive for cells used in energy storage devices.

We are putting in place the growth pivots for all our business verticals for the next stage of our journey.

Chairman's message

Dear Shareholders,

Amplify value through Research, Innovation, and Sustainability.

It gives me immense pleasure in addressing all of you for the first time. This is a milestone year for us at Ami Organics and I want to take a moment to thank you all for the phenomenal response to our IPO. We are overwhelmed by investors' response, which was visible in the 64x subscription for the IPO. This is a validation of the belief you have shown in our vision of amplifying value for our stakeholders and this vote of confidence has infused new energy into me and the team at Ami Organics. We are very motivated to continue our journey of creating an R&D driven sustainable company, focused on niche chronic therapeutic areas and complex chemistries. I am also extremely proud of how our team rose to the challenges of a turbulent business environment, excelled, and clocked in outstanding business performance. Our acquisition at the end of the year FY21 has opened a plethora of opportunities as it has given us access to an additional 600+ doors (customers), two well-maintained fungible plants with available land for expansion, a foray into petrochemicals, Agrochemicals, Cosmetics, Preservatives, electronic chemicals, and other chemistries. Our focus on ESG continues to be strong. At our Sachin facility in Gujarat, we have successfully started treating all the water waste and are re-using the same. Our focus on synthesizing new products as well as developing existing products in newer ways has made us a force to reckon with in the industry. Together, these developments have perfectly exemplified how we amplify value with Research, Innovation, and Sustainability.

In this message, I would like to share our thought process behind the IPO, discuss business and financial highlights, and our outlook for the coming year.

Capitalizing on the Growth Opportunities

During the year under review, our Company made a public offer of equity shares to investors and raised ₹3000 mn in fresh capital. Post this success, our shares are listed on both the national bourses in India i.e., BSE and NSE. Since the last few years, the Indian specialty chemicals industry is going through an interesting transition as production increasingly started shifting to India due to the tightening of environmental norms and for reducing dependence on certain geographies for input material. The global industry is also taking note of the value leadership demonstrated by the Indian chemical manufacturers by focusing on R&D, process engineering, developing capabilities of handling complex chemistries, etc. These enablers have changed the perception of the Indian chemicals manufacturers which has led to higher business enquiries and demand from global players. It was an opportune time to tap the market to capitalise on this opportunity as well as to support the existing growth in the advanced intermediate business. Our acquisition of Gujarat Organics on slump sale basis was on the same thought process which I will discuss in detail as we go further. After successfully fund raising Rs. 3,000 mn from the market by way of the IPO, we used the funds to pay back the borrowing taken for the acquisition of Gujarat Organics, to support the working capital, and for the expansion of the advanced pharma intermediate business.

An eventful year

Financial Year 2022 has been a landmark year for us. We crossed the milestone of Rs. 5000 mn sales along with Rs. 1000 mn EBITDA mark. On the technology front, Ami Organics is known as one of the first few companies to commercialize not one but two products using continuous flow technology. On the products front, we introduced 17 advanced intermediates and developed an electrolyte additive that is harnessed in the manufacturing of cells that are used in energy storage devices. Speaking of business, we also created a new business vertical of import substitute products. We also announced Rs. 1900 mn Capex for the expansion of the advanced pharmaceutical intermediate business. I believe these will be the key growth drivers for our business in coming years.

Agile adoption of new technologies

What stands out for Ami Organics is that we have always been ahead of the curve when it comes to imbibing technology in our business. Our technological dexterity has made us an affordable supplier with great quality and supply continuity thereby leading to customer stickiness. As input prices continued to rise and supply chain issues challenged business operations, scientists at Ami Organics were already researching and innovating newer ways of manufacturing existing products to stay cost-competitive and restrict margin pressure.

During the year, we developed a couple of big products using continuous flow technology to keep costs under check, reduce higher dependence on solvents, and release excess capacity for other products. It gives me immense pride to inform you that, both the products were developed by our R&D team at our R&D center in Surat. This is a validation of our technical capabilities not only in synthetic chemistry but also in process technology. I am proud to inform you that we have successfully developed capabilities in Plug Flow, Catalytic fixed-bed flow as well as Tubular flow reactors. We continue to design and upgrade our indigenously developed processes which is one of the key differentiators for Ami Organics. We have one process patent granted, seven process patents published, while four process patents are under review. We will continue to file more patents in the coming years to secure our process IP.

Consistent research-driven innovation

Ami Organics continues to stay ahead of the pack for its consistent research-driven innovation – one of the examples being, to keep a pipeline of products ready which are expected to be launched 10-15 years down the line. This gives us the first mover advantage and secures our place in the DMFs of our customers. Developing products in advance leads to better engagement with customers in turn creating customer stickiness. Another highlight of our research capabilities is the Company's foray into electrolyte additives for cells used in energy storage devices, Ami Organics is the first Indian Company to do so successfully. As per a research report obtained from a reputed agency, currently, the electrolyte additive is being manufactured in China and we will be the only manufacturer of the product outside China.

Chairman's message

Foray into new business segments and geographies

At Ami Organics, we continue to tap opportunities that give us inroads into newer geographies and create new business segments. Our foray into electronic chemicals is one such instance. Before our IPO, we acquired two facilities of Gujarat Organics for Rs. 930 mn situated in Ankhleshwar and Jhagadia, Gujarat. This acquisition gave us access to specialty chemicals which caters to Petro-chemicals, Electronic Chemicals, and Cosmetic industry. As mentioned before, it opened 600+ doors (customers) for us. Both plants acquired from Gujarat Organics are fungible plants, as we have embarked on our capex journey of Rs. 1900mn at Ankhleshwar for Pharma Intermediate business, we have shifted the existing machinery at Ankhleshwar to Jhagadia without incurring any revenue loss and without using any excess land available at Jhagadia. Jhagadia site still has a great parcel of land available for future expansion. We believe, this will be one of the key pillars of growth in the coming years.

During the year under review, we also developed import substitute products to form a new business vertical. Currently, we have two products under this segment, and we are already working towards adding more products in the pipeline which will be commercialized in the coming years. I continue to see strong demand for the pharma intermediates business and to address this we plan to set up a plant at Ankleshwar which is estimated to have a CAPEX of Rs. 1900 mn. This will help us secure business growth FY25 onwards.

Growing Sustainably

Our full-year revenue grew by an impressive 52.7% to Rs. 5201 mn as compared to Rs. 3406 mn in FY21. This was aided by the acquisition of Gujarat Organics as well as robust growth in the core business. Our pharma intermediate business grew by ~30% YoY in FY22. Our ability to swiftly pass on elevated KSM cost has helped us maintain our gross margins which came at 47.5% slightly above the gross margin of last year. Integration of the Gujarat Organics business put pressure on our consolidated EBITDA margins but I am happy to report that our team has shown operational competence by improving the EBITDA margin from Gujarat Organics facilities from merely 5% in FY21 to 11% in FY22. Our consolidated EBITDA margins came at 20.2% with EBITDA for advanced pharma intermediates business at ~22%. PAT for the FY22 was at Rs. 719mn up 33.2% as compared to the same period last year. PAT margins for the full year came at 13.8%. The Board has recommended a dividend of 30%. On the balance sheet side, we have brought down our debt from Rs. 1366mn as of FY21 to Rs. 6mn as of FY22. Cash and Cash equivalents at the end of March 2022 were at Rs. 989mn.

Outlook

The current global environment remains unsettled with supply chains disrupted and input prices at elevated levels. Even as the pandemic situation has improved drastically, the on-going geopolitical crisis continues to shadow economic growth prospects in the coming year. As Ami Organics' majority of business is in Advanced Pharma Intermediate space focused on chronic therapies, we continue to see good demand despite an uncertain environment. Given most raw materials are sourced within India, your company is relatively hedged from the supply chain disturbances. Therefore, I remain optimistic of delivering robust growth in the coming years supported by new product launches, growth in new business verticals and strong demand in core business.

As we move ahead, our focus will be on building an impressive and responsible corporate entity that actively contributes to building a safer world for our generations, today and tomorrow. Our agility and responsiveness to capture opportunities while constantly evolving our offerings has helped us become a trusted and dedicated partner to our customers, clients, and end-users across all our business divisions.

Gratitude!

I take this opportunity to thank our stakeholders, my colleagues on the Board, our employees, customers, and regulators for their continued trust and support. Your faith in us is a catalyst to amplify value while shaping a formidable organisation with an optimistic future. We are committed to work our way through the current environment, driving progress with our core purpose of enabling a safer and healthier world.

With Warm Regards,

Nareshkumar Patel

Management Discussion and Analysis

Global economy

The world witnessed a never-seen-before situation in the year 2020 to disrupt global economic flows to an unprecedented scale. However, what is important today is the time ahead of us – the year 2022 and beyond. Adapting to the current situation and capitalizing on the global market trends will be imperative more than ever.

After rebounding to an estimated 5.9 percent in FY 2021, global growth is expected to slowdown to 4.9 percent in FY 2022,¹ reflecting continued COVID-19 flare-ups, diminished fiscal support, and lingering supply bottlenecks. The near-term outlook for global growth is somewhat weaker. Although output and investment in advanced economies are projected to return to pre-pandemic trends next year, in emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs) – particularly in small states and fragile and conflict-afflicted countries – they will remain markedly below, owing to lower vaccination rates, tighter fiscal and monetary policies, and more persistent scarring from the pandemic.²

Inflation is set to rise in 2022 and beyond. The inflation after 20 years of low and stable pace is long-due in play and the economic contraction of 2020 has simply made the situation more vulnerable. As per the market situation, the inflation rise will be set-off by the 4-D's:

De-Population: There has been an acute shortage of labour, especially with the population growth rate slowing down in countries considered as the factories to the world like China and India. The working-age population growth rate has turned negative in China.

De-Globalization: From the decline in exports to promoting the idea of "Production within the Country", the markets will turn largely into a lesser-competition & higher-monopoly spaces fueling the inflation trend with price hikes.

Declining Productivity: From USA to South-Asian and Asian countries, political inclination, restrictive policies and interference are the major factors that have declined the productivity of industries and thereby, surging higher prices.

Debt: Again, with an enormous amount of stimulus that has been pushed into economies and is largely sitting in savings due to lack of spending opportunities, there is a break in economic cash flow. The resort to this is an increased debt which is assisted by more money printing.

There are strong signs of comeback for the developing countries in the coming years. With the pandemic-inspired digitization (and pre-pandemic momentum towards digitization), the expected annual growth of digital revenue 2020-2024 is set to reach around 13% in developing countries as compared to 11% in emerging markets & 6% in developed markets. With a much greater need than ever, economic reforms in developing countries would drive higher productivity and therefore, could lead to better economic growth.

Outlook:

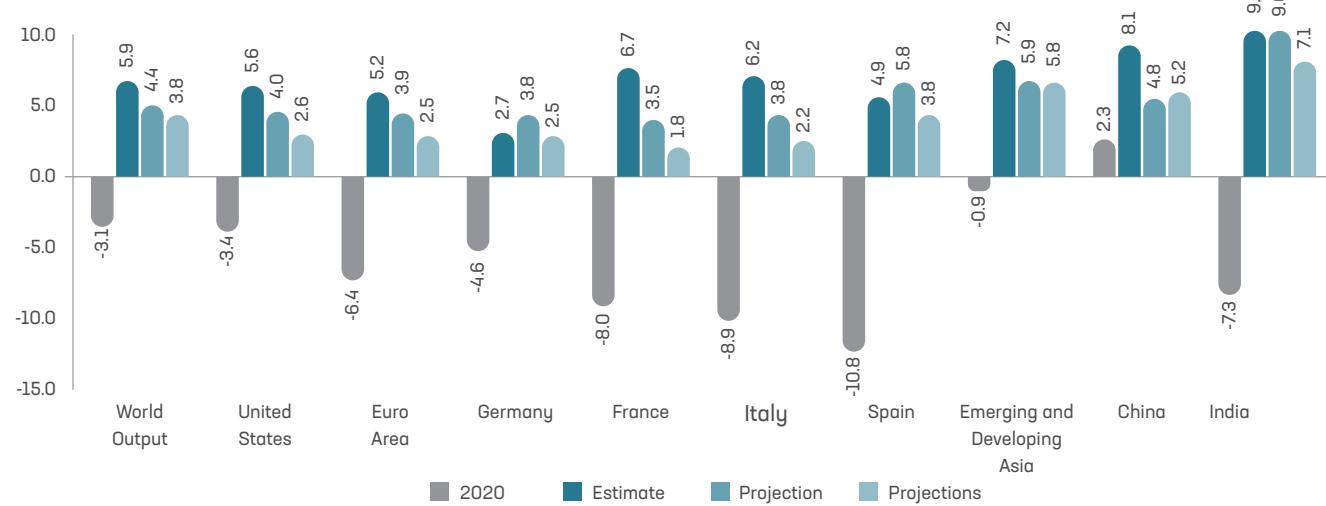

Global growth is projected to decelerate in 2022 and 2023. It is set to slow sharply, as the initial rebound in consumption and investment fades and macroeconomic support is withdrawn. Also, the geopolitical instability caused by the Russia-Ukraine conflict will lead to new supply chain bottlenecks and an uptick in the fuel prices around the world.

EMDEs are projected to experience a weaker recovery than advanced economies

In contrast to advanced economies, most EMDEs are expected to suffer substantial scarring to output from the pandemic, with growth trajectories not strong enough to return investment or output to pre-pandemic trends over the forecast horizon of 2022-23.

After surprising upside in 2021, global inflation is expected to remain elevated this year

The rebound in global activity, together with supply disruptions and higher food and energy prices, have pushed up headline inflation across many countries. More than half of inflation-targeting EMDEs experienced above-target inflation in 2021, prompting central banks to increase policy rates. Consensus forecasts anticipate median global inflation to remain elevated in 2022.

Indian economy

As per the first advance estimate, Indian economy is expected to register a growth rate of 9.2% in FY 2021-22 from a contraction of 7.3% in FY 2020-21. The growth was supported by positive development in key sectors including agriculture and allied activities which are expected to grow by 3.9% in FY 2021-22, from 3.6% in FY 2020-21.⁴ The industrial sector recovered exceptionally, after a contraction of 7% in FY 2020-21 to an expansion of 11.8% this fiscal year.⁵ The service industry, particularly those entailing human contact, has been severely affected by the pandemic. It is estimated to grow by 8.2% in FY 2021-22, following 8.4% contraction in the last year.⁶ It is critical to consider that different sub-sectors are demonstrating a wide dispersion of performance.

Investment, as measured by Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF), is predicted to restore to pre-pandemic levels after rising by 15% in FY 2021-22.⁷ The boosted capital creation in the economy has increased investment-to-GDP ratio by more than 29.6%. This can be attributed to the government's focus on growth through capex and infrastructure spending. Despite supply-chain interruptions, India's exports of both commodities and services have been extraordinarily high so far in FY2021-22. Moreover, India's balance of payments has been in surplus for the past two years.⁸

In 2021-22, goods and services exports and imports are expected to expand by 16.5 percent and 29.4 percent, respectively (at constant prices).⁹ These estimates support the strengthening of the economic recovery as a result of rising public-sector capex, increased export resilience, an acceleration in the investment cycle, and higher consumption levels.

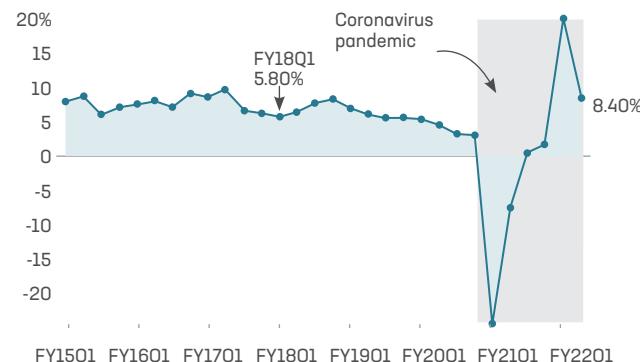

Inflation has resurfaced as a global issue in both advanced and emerging economies. Energy prices, non-food commodities, input prices, global supply chain disruptions, and increased freight costs all contributed to worldwide inflation this year.

Outlook

Growth in 2022-23 will be aided by widespread vaccination coverage, advantages from supply-side reforms and regulatory relaxation, healthy export growth, and the availability of fiscal freedom to increase capital investment. The next year would see an increase in private sector investment, with the financial system in a solid position to support the economy's recovery. Also the government has launched various schemes and initiatives to boost investments like reduction in Corporate Tax Rates, easing liquidity problems of NBFCs and Banks, FDI Policy reforms, Reduction in Compliance Burden, policy measures to boost domestic manufacturing through Public Procurement Orders, Phased Manufacturing Programme (PMP) etc. Many indicators point to India becoming a more attractive investment destination. A strong and clean banking sector is prepared to effectively support private investment. Thus, India's GDP is expected to rise by 8.0-8.5 percent in real terms in 2022-23.¹⁰ This forecast assumes there will be no further devastating pandemic-related economic disruption, the monsoon will be normal, major central banks will withdraw global liquidity in a relatively orderly manner, and global supply chain disruptions will gradually ease over the course of the year.

pharmaceuticals, construction, automotive, cosmetics, textiles, and agriculture. Rising population, decrease in arable land, and expansion of horticulture industries are important growth factors for the specialty chemicals industry.

The global specialty chemical market is poised to grow by $155.04 bn during 2021-2025, progressing at a CAGR of 3.41% during the forecast period.¹¹ The rapid growth of the pharmaceutical, construction and agrochemical sectors, particularly in the Asia-Pacific, Europe, the Middle East and Africa region are expected to influence the specialty chemical market growth in the short term

Growth Drivers of Speciality Chemicals by different segments:

- Growing global population, diminishing arable land, and the resulting need to boost agriculture yields, drives the demand for Agrochemicals. The utilisation of agricultural goods for industrial uses such as fuel blending and polymer manufacture would also generate new demand for agricultural products, opening up new avenues of application for Agrochemicals.
- Spike in worldwide demand for generic medications, coupled with India's position as the world's largest supplier of generic drugs, leads to increased local demand for Pharmaceutical Chemicals.
- A growth in construction projects in emerging economies, as well as an increase in the use of Construction Chemicals to improve project quality.
- Demand for Personal Care Products is being driven mostly by rising economies in the Asia-Pacific region, notably China and India, which are projected to rise at a CAGR of 9-10 percent. The United States and Europe are predicted to increase at a 4% annual rate, owing mostly to a trend toward natural active ingredients.
- There is a rising need for Finishing Chemicals that impart several advantageous features to textiles such as anti-microbial properties, wrinkle-free properties, stain-resistance, and so on.
- Demand for High Performance Pigments (HPP), which are durable and are resistant to UV radiation, heat, and chemicals, is increasing. Eco-friendly colourants, such as minimal impact dyes, are becoming more popular

Indian speciality chemical industry

Domestic and export demand are expected to support robust development in the medium term. Except for a few segments including dyes and pigments and refrigerant segments, the segment did not see any negative effects from COVID-19 in FY2022. Domestic demand began to improve in Q2 FY2022, and accelerated in H2 FY2022 due to strong export demand. While revenue growth persisted, margins declined due to rising raw material prices.

In the medium term, the sector is projected to benefit from potential shifts in the global supply chain, with global chemical majors trying to diversify their reliance on China, and Indian enterprises being well-positioned to take advantage. The specialty chemicals segment's medium to long-term outlook remains positive, boosted by development prospects in the domestic market as well as strong demand from the export market.

Major driving factors of the Indian Specialty chemical market can be listed as:

- Growing demand from end-user industries like food.
- Increased intensity of consumption
- Significant exports with room to expand
- Significant imports with scope for domestic substitution.
- Improved consumption standards

In India, the industry is highly diversified, with Pharmaceuticals, Agrochemicals, and Dyes-Pigments accounting for majority of sales. Construction chemicals, polymer chemicals, textile chemicals, surfactants, functional ingredients, nutra-functional, base ingredients, and many others are among the market's various divisions. Given the high number of unorganised firms servicing to smaller unorganised customers, India's market is predominantly disorganised. Surprisingly, in some cases, such as chemicals used in base components, unorganised firms have a higher market share than organised players.

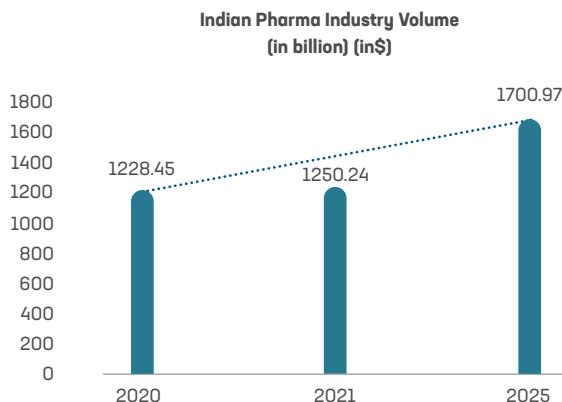

Global pharmaceutical industry

The worldwide medicines industry is estimated to increase at a 9.1% compound annual growth rate (CAGR) from $1454.66 billion in 2021 to $1587.05 billion in 2022.¹² The increase is primarily due to companies reorganising their operations and recovering from the impact of COVID-19, which had previously resulted in restrictive containment measures such as social distancing, remote working, and the closure of commercial activities, all of which created operational challenges. At an annual growth rate of 7.7%, the market is estimated to reach $2135.18 billion in 2026.¹³

The population profile of most countries is becoming older. The global population aged 65 years or over was 703 million in 2019.¹⁴ This rise in the aging population increased the patient pool of many chronic diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis, hypertension, diabetes, and cancer. The increase in the patient pool drove the demand for pharmaceuticals used in the treatment of these diseases, significantly impacting market growth during this period.

Indian pharmaceutical industry

Over the previous two decades, the Indian pharmaceutical industry has developed at a compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 11% in the domestic market and 16% in exports. While the local market has expanded at a similar rate to GDP, the industry's overall expansion has been fuelled by its leadership in delivering generic formulations to markets across the world.

It is predicted that Indian pharmaceutical business will increase at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 12% between 2020 and 2030, reaching US$130 billion by 2030, up from US$41.7 billion in 2020.¹⁹ Though the pharmaceutical sector has expanded at a CAGR of almost 13% over the last two decades, it has grown at an 8.5 percent CAGR in the last decade and is currently growing at an 6.2 percent CAGR over past five years.¹⁵

India's pharmaceutical sector produces approximately 40% of generics in the world's largest pharma market, the United States, and over 25% of prescription medications in the United Kingdom, as well as over 60% of worldwide vaccine demand.²¹ As one of the top ten industries in lowering trade deficits and attracting Foreign Direct Investment, the pharmaceutical industry has made a substantial contribution to India's economic growth (FDI). Between April 2000 and June 2020, the medications and pharmaceuticals sector received a total of US$16.54 billion in FDI. More importantly, over the same period, the country rose to the top of the global generic medicines sector, earning the moniker "Pharmacy of the World."¹⁶

Global API industry

The global active pharmaceutical ingredient (API) market is expected to rise in response to the growing ageing population and increased investment in biologic treatments. The global active pharmaceutical ingredient (API) industry, which was estimated at $190 billion in 2020, is expected to increase to almost $300 billion in the following decade.¹⁷

The factors driving growth include:

- expiration of patented biologics/investments in biosimilars
- rising incidence of chronic and lifestyle-associated diseases, like cancer, diabetes and cardiovascular diseases
- growing geriatric population
- government initiatives promoting generic drugs
- increasing healthcare expenditure
- surging awareness about diseases.

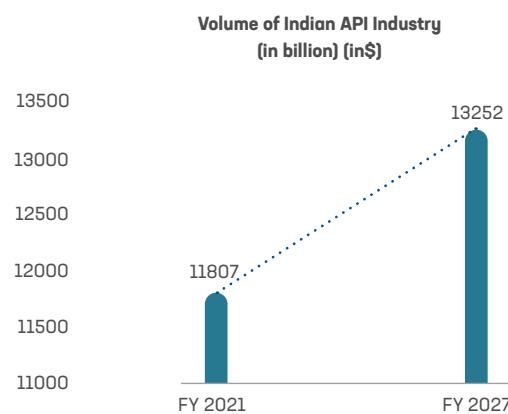

Between 2015 and 2020, captive manufacturing had the biggest market share, and this trend is expected to continue between 2021 and 2030. This, according to the report, is due to the simple availability of raw materials and the key players' rising investments in developing high-end manufacturing facilities.¹⁸ During the year, cardiology/cardiovascular was the largest therapy segment in API. Increasing cardiovascular diseases and high demand for fast-acting drugs are some of the key growth drivers for the segment. Oncology, HIV, Central Nervous System (CNS) and Cardiovascular (CVS) are likely to be the fastest growing during the forecast period.

Indian API industry

In 2021, the Indian active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs) market was valued at $11.8 billion, and it is still growing. Company Overview

Ami Organics Ltd. (Ami) is a R&D driven manufacturer of specialty chemicals with varied end uses. Notably the emphasis lies on the development and manufacturing of advanced pharmaceutical intermediates (Pharma Intermediates) for regulated and generic APIs. The Company also develops key starting materials for agrochemical and fine chemicals, owing to their recent acquisition of Gujarat Organics Limited (GOL).

Ami is a prominent maker of pharma intermediates for a number of essential APIs, including Trazodone, Entacapone, Oxcarbazepine, Nintedanib, Apixaban and Rivaroxaban. Ami-produced pharma intermediates are used in a number of high-growth medicinal fields. It operates three production plants with a total installed capacity of 6060 Mtpa. The Company has created over 450 plus pharmaceutical intermediates in 17 different therapeutic areas serving customers across countries.

Pharma intermediates business:

The Company has an experience of over 15 years of developing, manufacturing and commercialising advanced pharma intermediates used for manufacturing API and NCE in India and overseas market. It has developed and commercialised over 450 plus pharma intermediates across 17 key therapeutic areas since inception and NCE, which are being supplied to over 150 customers in India and 20 plus countries overseas. Some of the key therapeutic areas catered to by the company include anti-retroviral, anti-inflammatory, anti-psychotic, anti-cancer, anti-Parkinson, antidepressant and anticoagulant.

Specialty chemicals:

The Company manufactures specialty chemicals, which are primarily chemical components that find use in agrochemicals, fine chemicals and have, over the years, expanded commercialised product portfolio. The products are sold to various domestic and multinational customers for diverse end-user segments including preservatives, cosmetics, and agrochems. After acquiring GOL, the existing product portfolio of specialty chemicals has expanded to also include capabilities to manufacture preservatives and other specialty chemicals, which are used in the manufacture of cosmetics, dyes, polymers, petrochemicals, and agrochemicals.

Growth Drivers:

Diversification of product portfolio by strengthening R&D capabilities: Company's primary goal is to persistently ramp up its R&D capabilities to develop and introduce new products to explore potential growth areas and to meet domestic and overseas regulatory standards. The Company also focuses on creating cost-effective production procedures. It has submitted eight process patent applications related to the same, as well as three further pending process patent applications for which applications were made, in March 2021, and has established substantial knowledge in chemistry and series of molecules. Furthermore, the acquisition of GOL's business has enabled it to produce some items that the firm manufactures in India, such as PHBA, paraben derivatives, and Cyano phenol.

Continue to focus on cost efficiency, improving productivity: The Company strives to keep technology, facilities, and machinery current and updated with the latest international standards. We continue focusing on developing strong backward integration capabilities for key raw materials to ensure competitiveness, price flexibility and profitability. The procurement of raw materials is also critical in maintaining competitiveness, pricing flexibility, and profitability. Generally, the corporation does not enter long-term supply contracts with raw material suppliers. For each purchase order, pricing and volume are negotiated. In general, the buying price of raw materials follows market pricing. It purchases raw materials from third-party merchants and suppliers.

Diversification of business by focusing on organic, inorganic growth opportunities: To boost organic development and internal knowledge, company continues to explore strategic acquisitions and collaborations. In order to attain the desired levels of organic development, the Company also wants to enhance internal capacity and manufacturing capabilities. The Company believes that by pursuing strategic acquisitions, such as the acquisition of GOL's business, it will be able to add capabilities and technical expertise, as well as enter into partnerships, to strengthen product infrastructure and overall manufacturing capabilities in the specialty chemicals sector.

Augmenting scale through organic and inorganic routes in the current geographic markets and expanding into new geographic markets: We are well positioned to consolidate our existing capacity to capitalise upon future growth that is envisaged. We aim to strengthen our manufacturing capability and achieve better economies of scale by organic and inorganic growth. We have, and continue to expand our business through organic growth to increase our production capacities and product portfolio, including by way of our acquisitions which we believe significantly increases our production capabilities. Consistent with past practice, we will look to add capacity in a phased manner to ensure that we utilize our capacity at optimal levels. In addition, the acquisition of the Ankleshwar Facility and the Jhagadia Facility, both multipurpose backward integrated facilities have enabled us to expand our product portfolio to include the manufacture of specialty chemicals.

Challenges and risks

Higher RMAT cost, inability to pass on to impact performance:

The Other Commodity materials used by the Company are solvents like ethyl alcohol, dimethylformamide, isopropyl alcohol, toluene, caustic, benzene and alkalies. It does not have long-term contracts with the majority of its raw material suppliers. The Company's inability to accurately estimate demand and supply may have a major negative impact on working capital, business, and operating performance.

Regulatory related challenges for any plant to hurt performance:

The Company operates in an industry which is heavily regulated. Company deals in pharma API intermediates and we are required to comply with various regulations and quality standards. Since we supply our products to customers across global markets, our manufacturing facilities and products may be subjected to audit and inspection by Indian and overseas regulatory agencies (including US-FDA). Any abnormalities may result in a suspension of production activity, affecting the Company's financial performance.

Increasingly stringent environmental, health and safety ("EHS") laws, regulations and standards:

Our manufacturing facilities are subject to numerous laws and regulations designed to protect the environment, and we expect that additional requirements with respect to environmental matters will be imposed in the future. Our operations generate pollutants and waste, some of which may be hazardous and flammable. We are therefore subject to a wide range of laws and government regulations, including in relation to safety, health, labour, and environmental protection. Any failure on our part to comply with any existing or future regulations applicable to us may result business loss and legal proceedings.

Risk Management

Risks Faced	Risk Description	Mitigation Strategy
Raw Material Risk	The Company is vulnerable to changes in raw material availability and prices, and may not be able to pass on any increase in raw material costs to customers effectively, affecting margins, sales, results of operations, and cash flows.	The Company selects and approves a number of vendors to supply critical raw materials, and place purchase orders with them on a regular basis. The Company buys higher volumes of raw materials as the product line expands and production capacity expands. The Company prefers to place buy orders with vendors on a regular basis rather than entering into long-term supply contracts to keep the prices cost-competitive.
Technology Risk	The cost of developing new products and technologies, improving production facilities, and retaining research staff is substantial, and it has a considerable impact on operating results and cash flows.	The Company invests a significant amount of time, capital, and other resources in Research and Development to develop the product pipeline. Furthermore, due to technical advancements and scientific breakthroughs, Ami Organics adapts to rapid changes in the sector. The Company continues to ensure that technology, facilities, and machinery meet the most recent international standards.
Product Risk	Changes in market demand may also force the Company to halt existing or planned product development, and if the necessary investments are not made at the right time, the business, reputation, and financial situation might suffer considerably and adversely.	Ami Organics creates, tests, and produces innovative goods that satisfy regulatory standards and receive the necessary regulatory clearances in order to stay competitive. The company's financials are stable and will be able to work around such situations.

Risks Faced	Risk Description	Mitigation Strategy
Operational Risk	Breakdown or failure of equipment, power supply, or processes, performance below planned levels of output, efficiency, labour conflicts, strikes, environmental difficulties, lockouts, and non-availability of services from external contractors are all operational risks that the manufacturing facility faces.	The Company complies with cGMP guidelines, which include well designed and maintained equipment and facilities, established standard operating procedures, an independent quality assurance unit, well-trained employees and management, and adherence to and correct documentation of process and product controls, as well as lab controls required for drug quality assurance.
Environmental Risk	The Company may be susceptible to future penalties or production suspension if it fails to comply with current and future environmental laws and regulations, which might impact business or results of operations.	The Company expends substantial capital expenditure in establishing machinery and equipment to regulate the discharge of effluents, including a Zero Liquid Discharge based effluent plant, a soil biological treatment system, and a RO plant with a pre-treatment system, due to the many hazards involved with the manufacture of chemicals, such as the use, handling, processing, storage, and transportation of hazardous materials, as well as incidents such as chemical leakage or spillages.
Customer Risk	Revenue levels and results of operations are determined by the demand from customers, particularly top five customers, and sales are directly affected by customers' production and inventory levels.	Ami Organics has long-standing customer ties with both domestic and multinational pharmaceutical companies. Sales to the key customers are based on purchase orders that they place on a regular basis. The Company anticipates production volumes and revenue for specific products with the assistance of customer order volume projections.
Demand Risk	The actual production volumes may differ significantly from the estimates due to variations in product demand.	When actual production volumes differ significantly from the estimates, the Company generally seeks to make up for any shortfalls through new orders, either with existing or with new customers.
Regulatory Risk	The products, as well as the process of manufacturing, storing, and distributing them, are subject to numerous stringent quality, safety, and health-related laws and regulations.	The Company complies with international authorities' norms and quality standards in addition to Indian legislation and has a growth-oriented goal for maintaining and improving quality standards in accordance with internationally recognised regulatory norms. Ami Organics complies with all regulatory requirements for manufacturing intermediates based on Good Manufacturing Practices ("GMP"), and this gives a major competitive advantage over Indian and international competitors.
Currency Risk	The Company operates on a global scale, with the majority of sales and purchases, taking place in foreign currency. As a result, it is subject to currency risk.	The Company assesses the exchange rate risk posed by foreign currency transactions and hedge exposure with derivatives such as foreign exchange forward contracts. The Company purchases goods, commodities, and services in the respective currencies to help offset foreign exchange risk.
Competition Risk	If one of the competitors or their customers acquires one of the Company's customers or suppliers, Ami Organics risks losing revenue from that customer or losing a significant raw material or component supplier, which might harm business, cash flow, and financial position.	The Company increases its capacity to compete successfully by its ability to differentiate and effectively provide products, as well as the ability to cut costs by increasing productivity, removing redundancies, and adapting to new technology.

Report on the Audit of Standalone Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of Ami Organics Limited (CIN-L24100GJ2007PLC051093) ("the Company"), which comprise the balance sheet as at 31st March 2022, the statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Statement of Changes in Equity and the statement of cash flows for the year ended on that date and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as the "standalone financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2022 and its profit, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the standalone financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the standalone financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current year. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

The key audit matters

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Capitalisation of Assets

There are a number of areas where management judgement impacts the carrying value of property, plant and equipment, and their respective depreciation profiles. These include: - the decision to capitalise or expense costs; - the annual asset life review including the impact of changes in the strategy; and - the timeliness of the transfer from assets in the course of construction. Refer Note 3.09 - of the standalone financial statements "Property, plant and equipment".

We tested controls in place over the property, plant and equipment cycle, evaluated the appropriateness of capitalisation policies, performed tests of details on costs capitalised and assessed the timeliness of the transfer of assets in the course of construction and the application of the asset life. In performing these substantive procedures, we assessed the judgements made by management including: - the nature of underlying costs capitalised; - the appropriateness of asset lives applied in the calculation of depreciation. Assessed the appropriateness of work in progress on balance sheet date by evaluating the underlying documentation to identify possible delays.

Inventories

At 31 March 2022, Inventory of Finished Goods is disclosed in note 8 - Inventories.

Our procedures included the following to assess inventory cost:

Assessing the reasonableness of the methodologies applied by management for consistency with prior years and our knowledge of industry practice.

- Evaluating the assumptions and estimates applied to the methodologies
 - testing the identification of such inventories;
 - testing the accuracy of historical information and data trends;
- Sample Testing the estimated future sales values, less estimated costs to sell against the carrying value of the inventories.
- Recalculating the arithmetical accuracy of the computations.

In order to carry inventory at the lower of cost and net realisable value, management has identified overheads cost and made adjustments to the carrying value of these items, the calculation of which requires certain estimates and assumptions. These judgments include bifurcation of overhead cost on the Finish good, using factors existing at the reporting date. i.e. overheads is charged to the Finished goods.

Information other than the Standalone Financial Statements and Auditor's Report thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibility of Management for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate implementation and maintenance of accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company to express an opinion on the Standalone Financial Statements

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the standalone financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the standalone financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current year and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Ami ORGANICS LIMITED ("the Company") as of 31 March 2022 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgments, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of standalone financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of standalone financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the standalone financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future years are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to explanation given to us, the Company has maintained, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March 2022, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

We, however, state that this is not an assurance as to the future viability of the Company. 2 Significant accounting policies

Statement of compliance

Standalone Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India including Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) prescribed under the Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and relevant amendment rules issued thereafter.

3.01 Basis of preparation of financial statements

The separate financial statements of the company are prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS), under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis as per the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act"), except for:

- Financial instruments - measured at fair value;
- Assets held for sale - measured at fair value less cost of sale;
- Plan assets under defined benefit plans - measured at fair value
- In addition, the carrying values of recognised assets and liabilities, designated as hedged items in fair value hedges that would otherwise be carried at cost, are adjusted to record changes in the fair values attributable to the risks that are being hedged in effective hedge relationship.

3.02 Current and non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current / non-current classification.

An asset is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria: it is expected to be realised in, or is intended for sale or consumption in, the Company's normal operating cycle.

it is held primarily for the purpose of being traded;

- It is expected to be realised within 12 months after the reporting date; or
- It is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date.
- All other assets are classified as non-current.
- A liability is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:
- It is expected to be settled in the Company's normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of being traded
- It is due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting date; or the Company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current only.

The Ind AS are prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and relevant amendment rules issued thereafter. Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The Financial Statements are presented in Indian Rupees ('₹') and all values are rounded to the nearest Lakhs, except otherwise indicated.

3.03 Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the Management to make estimates,

judgments and assumptions. These estimates, judgments and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

This note provides an overview of the areas where there is a higher degree of judgment or complexity. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgments is included in relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation.

The areas involving critical estimates or judgments are:

Valuation of financial instruments

Useful life of property, plant and equipment

Defined benefit obligation

Provisions

Recoverability of trade receivables

Recognition of revenue and allocation of transaction price

Current tax expense and current tax payable

Estimates and judgments are regularly revisited. Estimates are based on historical experience and other factors, including futuristic reasonable information that may have a financial impact on the company.

Summary of significant accounting policies

A summary of the significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of the financial statements is as given below. These accounting policies have been applied consistently to all the periods presented in the financial statements.

3.04 Fair value measurement

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The Company's Management determines the policies and procedures for both recurring fair value measurement, such as derivative instruments and unquoted financial assets measured at fair value, and for non-recurring measurement, such as assets held for distribution in discontinued operations.

At each reporting date, the Management analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be remeasured or re-assessed as per the Company's accounting policies. For this analysis, the Management verifies the major inputs applied in the latest valuation by agreeing the information in the valuation computation to contracts and other relevant documents.

The Management also compares the change in the fair value of each asset and liability with relevant external sources to determine whether the change is reasonable.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

This note summarises accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

Disclosures for valuation methods, significant estimates and assumptions (note 37)

Financial instruments (including those carried at amortised cost) (note 36)

3.05 Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised when control of goods is transferred to a customer in accordance with the terms of the contract. The control of the goods is transferred upon delivery to the customers either at factory gate of the Company or specific location of the customer or when the goods are handed over to the freight carrier, as per the terms of the contract. A receivable is recognised by the Company when the goods are delivered to the customer as this represents the point in time at which the right to consideration becomes unconditional, as only the passage of time is required before payment is due.

Revenue from services, including those embedded in contract for sale of goods, namely, freight and insurance services mainly in case of export sales, is recognised upon completion of services.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled as per contract with a customer. The consideration is determined based on the price specified in the contract, net of the estimated variable

consideration. Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for the variable consideration, using the expected value method and revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal will not occur. Contracts with customers are for short-term, at an agreed price basis having contracted credit period ranging up to 180 days. The contracts do not grant any rights of return to the customer. Returns of goods are accepted by the Company only on an exception basis. Revenue excludes any taxes or duties collected on behalf of government that are levied on sales such as goods and services tax.

Eligible export incentives are recognised in the year in which the conditions precedent are met and there is no significant uncertainty about the collectability.

Interest and dividend income

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the shareholder's right to receive payment has been established (provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably). Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition

3.06 Inventories:

Items of inventories are valued lower of cost or estimated net realisable value as given below.

i. Raw Materials and Packing Materials:

Raw Materials and packing materials are valued at Lower of Cost or market value, (Cost is net of Taxes, wherever applicable). However materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost. Costs are determined on First in First Out (FIFO) method.

ii. Work in process:

Work in process are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. The cost is computed on FIFO method.

iii. Finished goods & semi-finished goods:

Finished Goods & semi-finished goods are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value. The cost is computed on FIFO method and includes cost of materials, cost of conversion and other costs incurred in acquiring the inventory and bringing them to their present location and condition.

iv. Stores and spares:

Stores and spare parts are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value. Costs are determined on FIFO method and net realisable value.

3.07 Leases:

As a lessee

The Company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

The right-of-use assets are subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability. The lease liability is initially measured at amortised cost at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, using the incremental borrowing rate.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets The Company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less, leases of low-value assets and cancellable leases. The Company recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense in Profit and loss account.

As a lessor

Lease income from operating leases where the Company is a lessor is recognised in income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. The respective leased assets are included in the balance sheet based on their nature. The Company did not need to make any adjustments to the accounting for assets held as lessor as a result of adopting the new leasing standard.

3.08 Foreign currency transactions and translation

- i) Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated in functional currency at closing rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statements

- ii) Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items recognised in statement of profit and loss.
- iii) As the Company enters into business transactions based on the prevailing exchange rate, forward premium and other related factors, the gain/(loss) on this account is considered to be an integral part of the operations of the Company in accordance with industry practice and to avoid distortion of operating performance.

3.09 Taxes

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The Company determines the tax as per the provisions of Income Tax Act 1961 and other rules specified thereunder.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided in full using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except when the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

3.10 a) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and where applicable accumulated impairment losses. Property, plant and equipment and capital work in progress cost include expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. The cost of self-constructed assets includes the cost of materials, direct labour and any other costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to a working condition for its intended use, and the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located. Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalized as part of that equipment.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Subsequent Cost

The cost of replacing part of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Company and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is de-recognised and charged to the statement of Profit and Loss. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

b) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment loss. The system software which is expected to provide future enduring benefits is capitalised. The capitalised cost includes license fees and cost of implementation/system integration.

Depreciation and amortisation

The depreciation on tangible assets is calculated on SLM method over the estimated useful life of assets prescribed by the Schedule II to the Companies Act 2013 as follows:

Asset class	Useful life as per management
Plant and machinery	20 years
Office equipment	5 years
Computers/Servers	3/6 years
Vehicles	8 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Electrical installation	10 years
Office premises	60 years
Residential premises	60 years
Factory Building	30 years
Lease hold Land	Over the period of Lease

The useful life has been determined based on technical evaluation done by the Management/experts, which are different from the useful life prescribed in Part C of Schedule II of the Act in order to reflect actual use of the assets. The residual values ,useful life and method of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed annually and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Derecognition of assets

An item of property plant & equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

3.11 Investment property

Property that is held for long term rental yield or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is classified as Investment property. Investment properties measured initially at cost including related transitions cost and where applicable borrowing cost. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised to the assets carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the entity and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are expensed when incurred. When part of an investment property is incurred the carrying amount of replaced part is derecognised.

Investment properties other than land are depreciated using SLM method over the estimated useful life of assets prescribed by the Schedule II to the Companies Act 2013 i.e. 60 years for office premises. Investment properties include:

- (i) Land
- (ii) Office premises.

3.12 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

3.13 Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the company or a present obligation that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured reliably. The contingent liability is not recognised in books of account but its existence is disclosed in financial statements.

3.14 Contingent Assets

A contingent asset is a possible asset that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by future events not wholly within the control of the entity.

Contingent assets require disclosure only. If the realisation of income is virtually certain, the related asset is not a contingent asset and recognition is required.

3.15 Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses, at each reporting date, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or Company's assets. When the

carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

3.16 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the Company expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

3.17 Financial instruments

Initial recognition

The company recognise the financial asset and financial liabilities when it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. All the financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised at Transactional Cost on initial recognition, except for trade receivable which are initially recognised at transaction price. Transaction cost that are directly attributable to the acquisition of financial asset and financial liabilities, that are not at fair value through profit and loss, are added to the fair value on the initial recognition.

Subsequent measurement

(A) Non derivative financial instruments

(i) Financial Assets at amortised cost

A financial assets is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met :

- The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

This category is the most relevant to the Company. All the Loans and other receivables under financial assets (except Investments) are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Trade receivables do not carry any interest and are stated at their nominal value as reduced by impairment amount.

(ii) Financial Assets at Fair Value through Profit or Loss/Other comprehensive income

Instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

If the company decides to classify an instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognised in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to P&L, even on sale of investment. However, the company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

(iii) Financial liabilities

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

(a) Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. However, the Company has borrowings at floating rates. Considering the impact of restatement of Effective interest rate, transaction cost is being amortised over the tenure of loan and borrowing.

(b) Trade & other payables

After initial recognition, trade and other payables maturing within one year from the Balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

(B) Derivative financial instruments

The company holds derivatives financial instruments such as foreign exchange forward and option contracts to mitigate the risk of changes in exchange rates on foreign currency exposures. Company has taken all the forward contract from the bank.

The company have derivative financial assets/financial liabilities which are not designated as hedges;

Derivatives not designated are initially recognised at the fair value and attributable transaction cost are recognised in statement of profit and loss, when

incurred. Subsequent to initial recognition, these derivatives are measured at fair value through profit and loss. Asset/Liabilities in this category are presented as current asset/current liabilities.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

3.18 Cash and cash equivalents

Statement of Cash Flows is prepared segregating the cash flows into operating, investing and financing activities. Cash flow from operating activities is reported using indirect method, adjusting the net profit for the effects of: i. changes during the period in inventories and operating receivables and payables transactions of a non-cash nature; ii. Non-cash items such as depreciation, provisions, deferred taxes, unrealized foreign currency gains and losses, and undistributed profits of associates; and iii. all other items for which the cash effects are investing or financing cash flows.

Cash and cash equivalents (including bank balances) shown in the Statement of Cash Flows exclude items which are not available for general use as on the date of Balance Sheet.

3.19 Employee Benefits

i) Defined contribution plans (Provident Fund)

In accordance with Indian Law, eligible employees receive benefits from Provident Fund, which is defined contribution plan. Both the employee and employer make monthly contributions to the plan, which is administrated by the Government authorities, each equal to the specific percentage of employee's basic salary. The Company has no further obligation under the plan beyond its monthly contributions. Obligation for contributions to the plan is recognised as an employee benefit expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss when incurred.

ii) Defined benefit plans (Gratuity)

In accordance with applicable Indian Law, the Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan

(the Gratuity Plan) covering eligible employees. The Gratuity Plan provides a lumpsum payment to vested employees, at retirement or termination of employment, and amount based on respective last drawn salary and the years of employment with the Company. The Company's net obligation in respect of the Gratuity Plan is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefits that the employees have earned in return of their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value. Any unrecognised past service cost and the fair value of plan assets are deducted. The discount rate is yield at reporting date on risk free government bonds that have maturity dates approximating the terms of the Company's obligation. The calculation is performed annually by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. When the calculation results in a benefit to the Company, the recognised asset is limited to the total of any unrecognised past service cost and the present value of the economic benefits available in the form of any future refunds from the plan or reduction in future contribution to the plan.

The Company recognises all Remeasurement of net defined benefit liability/asset directly in other comprehensive income and presented within equity.

iii) Short term benefits

Short term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as a related service provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid under short term cash bonus or profit sharing plans if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

3.20 Lease

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases of real estate properties that have a lease term of 12 months. The company recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

3.21 Earnings per share

Basic and diluted earnings per share are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to equity shareholders for the year, by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

3.22 Dividend distribution

Dividend distribution to the equity holders is recognized as a liability in the Company's annual accounts in the year in which the dividends are approved by the Company's equity holders.

3.23 Research and Development expenditure

Expenditure on research is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Expenditure on development which does not meet the criteria for recognition as an intangible assets is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Items of Property, Plant and Equipment and acquired Intangible assets are used for research and development are capitalised and depreciated in accordance with the policies stated for Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible assets.

3.24 RECENT PRONOUNCEMENTS

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 23, 2022, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2022, applicable from April 01, 2022, as below

- Ind AS 103 - Reference to Conceptual Framework

The amendments specify that to qualify for recognition as part of applying the acquisition method, the identifiable assets acquired, and liabilities assumed must meet the definitions of assets and liabilities in the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting under Indian Accounting Standards (Conceptual Framework) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India at the acquisition date. These changes do not significantly change the requirements of Ind AS 103. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its Financial Statements.

- Ind AS 16 - Proceeds before intended use

The amendments mainly prohibit an entity from deducting from the cost of property, plant and equipment amounts received from selling items produced while the Company is preparing the asset for its intended use. Instead, an entity will recognize such sales proceeds and related cost in profit or loss. The Company does not expect the amendments to have any material impact in its recognition of its property, plant and equipment in its Financial Statements

- Ind AS 37 - Onerous Contracts - Costs of Fulfilling a Contract

The amendments specify that the 'cost of fulfilling' a contract comprises the 'costs that relate directly to the contract'. Costs that relate directly to a contract can either be incremental costs of fulfilling that contract (examples would be direct labour, materials) or an allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling contracts. The amendment is essentially a clarification, and the Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its Financial Statements.

- Ind AS 109 - Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendment clarifies which fees an entity includes when it applies the '10 percent' test of Ind AS 109 in assessing whether to derecognise a financial liability. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its Financial Statements.

- Ind AS 106 - Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendments remove the illustration of the reimbursement of leasehold improvements by the lessor in order to resolve any potential confusion regarding the treatment of lease incentives that might arise because of how lease incentives were described in that illustration. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its Financial Statements.

We have audited the accompanying Consolidated financial statements of Ami ORGANICS LIMITED (CIN-L24100GJ2007PLC051093) (hereinafter referred to as "the Holding Company") and its jointly controlled entity (the Holding Company and its Jointly Controlled Entity together referred to as "Group"), which comprise the consolidated balance sheet as at 31 March 2022, and the consolidated statement of profit and loss (including other comprehensive income), the consolidated statement of changes in equity and the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the consolidated financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid Consolidated financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Group as at March 31, 2022, of its consolidated profit and other comprehensive income, consolidated changes in equity and consolidated cash flows for the year then ended.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the Consolidated financial statements under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

The key audit matters

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Capitalization of Assets

There are a number of areas where management judgement impacts the carrying value of property, plant and equipment, and their respective depreciation profiles. These include: - the decision to capitalize or expense costs; - the annual asset life review including the impact of changes in the strategy; and - the timeliness of the transfer from assets in the course of construction. Refer Note 3.09- of the Consolidated financial statements "Property, plant and equipment".

Inventories

At 31 March 2022, Inventory of Finished Goods is disclosed in note 8 - Inventories.

In order to carry inventory at the lower of cost and net realisable value, management has identified overheads cost and made adjustments to the carrying value of these items, the calculation of which requires certain estimates and assumptions. These judgments include bifurcation of overhead cost on the Finish good, using factors existing at the reporting date. i.e. overheads is charged to the Finished goods.

We tested controls in place over the property, plant and equipment cycle, evaluated the appropriateness of capitalization policies, performed tests of details on costs capitalised and assessed the timeliness of the transfer of assets in the course of construction and the application of the asset life. In performing these substantive procedures, we assessed the judgements made by management including: - the nature of underlying costs capitalised; - the appropriateness of asset lives applied in the calculation of depreciation. Assessed the appropriateness of work in progress on balance sheet date by evaluating the underlying documentation to identify possible delays.

Our procedures included the following to assess inventory cost:

Assessing the reasonableness of the methodologies applied by management for consistency with prior years and our knowledge of industry practice.

- Evaluating the assumptions and estimates applied to the methodologies
 - testing the identification of such inventories;
 - testing the accuracy of historical information and data trends;
- Sample Testing the estimated future sales values, less estimated costs to sell against the carrying value of the inventories.
- Recalculating the arithmetical accuracy of the computations.

Information other than the Consolidated Financial Statements and Auditor's Report thereon

The Holding Company's Management and Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, but does not include the Consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibility of Management for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Management and Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these Consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, and cash flows of the Group in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Group and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate implementation and maintenance of accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective management and Board of Directors of the entities included in the Group are responsible for assessing the ability of each entity to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the entities included in the Group is responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of each entity.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Group has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the Consolidated Financial Statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the Financial Statements of such entities or business activities included in the Consolidated Financial Statements of which we are the Independent Auditors.

Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the consolidated financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the consolidated financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the consolidated financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication

to the Independent Auditors' Report

(Referred to in paragraph 1(f) under the heading 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Ami ORGANICS LIMITED ("the Holding Company") as of 31 March 2022, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to the financial statements of the Holding Company and its Joint Ventures, which are incorporated in India as of that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Board of Directors of the Holding Company and joint ventures, which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Holding Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Group's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgments, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls system over financial reporting with reference to these consolidated financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of consolidated financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of Consolidated financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the Consolidated financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to explanation given to us, the Group has maintained, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March 2022, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Holding Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

The Consolidated Financial Statements are approved by the company's Board of Directors on May 16, 2022.

2 Significant accounting policies

Statement of compliance

Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India including Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) prescribed under the Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and relevant amendment rules issued thereafter.

3.01 Basis of preparation of financial statements

Basis of consolidation

Investments in associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies. A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates or joint ventures are incorporated in these consolidated financial statements using the Proportionate consolidation. Proportionate consolidation is a method of accounting whereby a venture's share of each of the assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a jointly controlled entity is combined line by line with similar items in the venture's financial statements or reported as separate line items in the venture's financial statements

The Group discontinues the use of the proportionate consolidation method from the date when the investment ceases to be an associate or a joint venture, or when the investment is classified as held for sale. When the investment becomes a subsidiary, the Group accounts for its investment in accordance with Ind AS 103 'Business Combination'. When the Group retains an interest in the former associate or joint venture and the retained interest is a financial asset, the Group measures it at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition in accordance with Ind AS 109. The difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture at the date the equity method was discontinued, and the fair value of any retained interest and any proceeds from disposing of a part interest is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate or joint venture.

The separate financial statements of the company are prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS), under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis as per the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act"), except for:

- Financial instruments - measured at fair value;
- Assets held for sale - measured at fair value less cost of sale;
- Plan assets under defined benefit plans - measured at fair value
- In addition, the carrying values of recognised assets and liabilities, designated as hedged items in fair value hedges that would otherwise be carried at cost, are adjusted to record changes in the fair values attributable to the risks that are being hedged in effective hedge relationship.

3.02 Current and non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current / non-current classification.

An asset is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria: it is expected to be realised in, or intended for sale or consumption in, the Company's normal operating cycle. It is held primarily for the purpose of being traded;

- It is expected to be realised within 12 months after the reporting date; or

- It is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date.
- All other assets are classified as non-current.
- A liability is classified as current when it satisfies any of the following criteria:
- It is expected to be settled in the Company's normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of being traded
- It is due to be settled within 12 months after the reporting date; or the Company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date. Terms of a liability that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the issue of equity instruments do not affect its classification.

All other liabilities are classified as non-current. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current only.

The Ind AS are prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and relevant amendment rules issued thereafter. Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The Consolidated Financial Statements have been presented in Indian Rupees (INR), which is the Company's functional currency. All financial information presented in INR has been rounded off to the nearest of Lakhs, unless otherwise stated.

3.03 Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the Management to make estimates, judgments and assumptions. These estimates, judgments and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

This note provides an overview of the areas where there is a higher degree of judgment or complexity. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgments is included in relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation.

The areas involving critical estimates or judgments are:

- Valuation of financial instruments
- Useful life of property, plant and equipment
- Defined benefit obligation
- Provisions
- Recoverability of trade receivables
- Recognition of revenue and allocation of transaction price
- Current tax expense and current tax payable
- Estimates and judgments are regularly revisited. Estimates are based on historical experience and other factors, including futuristic reasonable information that may have a financial impact on the company.

Summary of significant accounting policies

A summary of the significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of the financial statements is as given below. These accounting policies have been applied consistently to all the periods presented in the financial statements.

3.04 Fair value measurement

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The Company's Management determines the policies and procedures for both recurring fair value measurement, such as derivative instruments and unquoted financial assets measured at fair value, and for non-recurring measurement, such as assets held for distribution in discontinued operations.

At each reporting date, the Management analyses the movements in the values of assets and liabilities which are required to be remeasured or re-assessed as per the Company's accounting policies. For this analysis, the

Management verifies the major inputs applied in the latest valuation by agreeing the information in the valuation computation to contracts and other relevant documents.

The Management also compares the change in the fair value of each asset and liability with relevant external sources to determine whether the change is reasonable.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

This note summarises accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

Disclosures for valuation methods, significant estimates and assumptions (note 39)

Financial instruments (including those carried at amortised cost) (note 38)

3.05 Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised when control of goods is transferred to a customer in accordance with the terms of the contract. The control of the goods is transferred upon delivery to the customers either at factory gate of the Company or specific location of the customer or when the goods are handed over to the freight carrier, as per the terms of the contract. A receivable is recognised by the Company when the goods are delivered to the customer as this represents the point in time at which the right to consideration becomes unconditional, as only the passage of time is required before payment is due.

Revenue from services, including those embedded in contract for sale of goods, namely, freight and insurance services mainly in case of export sales, is recognised upon completion of services.

Revenue is measured based on the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled as per contract with a customer. The consideration is determined based on the price specified in the contract, net of the estimated variable consideration. Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for the variable consideration, using the expected value method and revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal will not occur. Contracts with customers are for short-term, at an agreed price basis having contracted credit period ranging up to 180 days. The contracts do not grant any rights of return to the customer. Returns of goods are accepted by the Company only on an exception basis. Revenue excludes any taxes or duties collected on behalf of government that are levied on sales such as goods and services tax. Eligible export incentives are recognised in the year in which the conditions precedent are met and there is no significant uncertainty about the collectability.

Interest and dividend income

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the shareholder's right to receive payment has been established (provided that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably). Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition

3.06 Inventories:

Items of inventories are valued lower of cost or estimated net realisable value as given below.

i. Raw Materials and Packing Materials:

Raw Materials and packing materials are valued at Lower of Cost or market value, (Cost is net of Taxes, wherever applicable). However materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost. Costs are determined on First in First Out (FIFO) method.

ii. Work in process:

Work in process are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. The cost is computed on FIFO method.

iii. Finished goods & semi-finished goods:

Finished Goods & semi-finished goods are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value. The cost is computed on FIFO method and includes cost of materials, cost of conversion and other costs incurred in acquiring the inventory and bringing them to their present location and condition.

iv. Stores and spares:

Stores and spare parts are valued at lower of cost or net realisable value. Costs are determined on FIFO method and net realisable value.

3.07 Leases:

As a lessee

The Company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs

incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the underlying asset or the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

The right-of-use assets are subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability. The lease liability is initially measured at amortised cost at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, using the incremental borrowing rate.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets The Company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less, leases of low-value assets and cancellable leases. The Company recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense in Profit and loss account.

As a lessor

Lease income from operating leases where the Company is a lessor is recognised in income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. The respective leased assets are included in the balance sheet based on their nature. The Company did not need to make any adjustments to the accounting for assets held as lessor as a result of adopting the new leasing standard.

3.08 Foreign currency transactions and translation

- i) Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated in functional currency at closing rates of exchange at the reporting date.
- ii) Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items recognised in statement of profit and loss.
- iii) As the Company enters into business transactions based on the prevailing exchange rate, forward premium and other related factors, the gain/(loss) on this account is considered to be an integral part of the operations of the Company in accordance with industry practice and to avoid distortion of operating performance.

3.09 Taxes

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The Company determines the tax as per the provisions of Income Tax Act 1961 and other rules specified thereunder.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided in full using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except when the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

3.10 a) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and where applicable accumulated impairment losses. Property, plant and equipment and capital work in progress cost include expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. The cost of self-constructed assets includes the cost of materials, direct labour and any other costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to a working condition for its intended use, and the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located. Purchased software that is integral to the functionality of the related equipment is capitalized as part of that equipment.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Subsequent Cost

The cost of replacing part of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognised in the carrying amount of the item if it is probable that the future economic benefits embodied within the part will flow to the Company and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is de-recognised and charged to the statement of Profit and Loss. The costs of the day-to-day servicing of property, plant and equipment are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

b) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment loss. The system software which is expected to provide future enduring benefits is capitalised. The capitalised cost includes license fees and cost of implementation/system integration.

Depreciation and amortisation

The depreciation on tangible assets is calculated on SLM method over the estimated useful life of assets prescribed by the Schedule II to the Companies Act 2013 as follows:

Asset class	Useful life as per management
Plant and machinery	20 years
Office equipment	5 years
Computers/Servers	3/6 years
Vehicles	8 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Electrical installation	10 years
Office premises	60 years
Residential premises	60 years
Factory Building	30 years
Lease hold Land	Over the period of Lease

The useful life has been determined based on technical evaluation done by the Management/experts, which are different from the useful life prescribed in Part C of Schedule II of the Act in order to reflect actual use of the assets. The residual values, useful life and method of depreciation of property, plant and equipment are reviewed annually and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

Derecognition of assets

An item of property plant & equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

3.11 Investment property

Property that is held for long term rental yield or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is classified as Investment property. Investment properties measured initially at cost including related transaction costs and where applicable borrowing cost. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised to the assets carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the entity and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are expensed when incurred. When part of an investment property is incurred the carrying amount of replaced part is derecognised.

Investment properties other than land are depreciated using SLM method over the estimated useful life of assets prescribed by the Schedule II to the Companies Act 2013 i.e. 60 years for office premises. Investment properties include:

- (i) Land
- (ii) Office premises.

3.11 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes

a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

3.12 Contingent liabilities

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the company or a present obligation that is not recognised because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognised because it cannot be measured reliably. The contingent liability is not recognised in books of account but its existence is disclosed in financial statements.

3.14 Contingent Assets

A contingent asset is a possible asset that arises from past events and whose existence will be confirmed only by future events not wholly within the control of the entity.

Contingent assets require disclosure only. If the realisation of income is virtually certain, the related asset is not a contingent asset and recognition is required.

3.15 Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses, at each reporting date, whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or Company's assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

3.16 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the Company expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

3.17 Financial instruments

Initial recognition

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the Company expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

Subsequent measurement

(A) Non derivative financial instruments

(i) Financial Assets at amortised cost

A financial assets is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met :

- a) The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
- b) Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

This category is the most relevant to the Company. All the Loans and other receivables under financial assets (except Investments) are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Trade receivables do not carry any interest and are stated at their nominal value as reduced by impairment amount.

(ii) Financial Assets at Fair Value through Profit or Loss/Other comprehensive income

Instruments included within the FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

If the company decides to classify an instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instrument, excluding dividends, are recognised in

the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to P&L, even on sale of investment. However, the company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity.

(iii) Financial liabilities

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

(a) Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method. However, the Company has borrowings at floating rates. Considering the impact of restatement of Effective interest rate, transaction cost is being amortised over the tenure of loan and borrowing.

(b) Trade & other payables

After initial recognition, trade and other payables maturing within one year from the Balance sheet date, the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

(B) Derivative financial instruments

The company holds derivatives financial instruments such as foreign exchange forward and option contracts to mitigate the risk of changes in exchange rates on foreign currency exposures. Company has taken all the forward contract from the bank.

The company have derivative financial assets/financial liabilities which are not designated as hedges;

Derivatives not designated are initially recognised at the fair value and attributable transaction cost are recognised in statement of profit and loss, when incurred. Subsequent to initial recognition, these derivatives are measured at fair value through profit and loss. Asset/Liabilities in this category are presented as current asset/current liabilities.

Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

3.18 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits, as defined above, as they are considered an integral part of the Company's cash management.

3.19 Employee Benefits

i) Defined contribution plans (Provident Fund)

In accordance with Indian Law, eligible employees receive benefits from Provident Fund, which is defined contribution plan. Both the employee and employer make monthly contributions to the plan, which is administrated by the Government authorities, each equal to the specific percentage of employee's basic salary. The Company has no further obligation under the plan beyond its monthly contributions. Obligation for contributions to the plan is recognised as an employee benefit expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss when incurred..

ii) Defined benefit plans (Gratuity)

In accordance with applicable Indian Law, the Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan (the Gratuity Plan) covering eligible employees. The Gratuity Plan provides a lumpsum payment to vested employees, at retirement or termination of employment, and amount based on respective last drawn salary and the years of employment with the Company. The Company's net obligation in respect of the Gratuity Plan is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefits that the employees have earned in return of their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit is discounted to determine its present value. Any unrecognised past service cost and the fair value of plan assets are deducted. The discount rate is yield at reporting date on risk free government bonds that have maturity dates approximating the terms of the Company's obligation. The calculation is performed annually by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. When the calculation results in a benefit to the Company, the recognised asset is limited to the total of any unrecognised past service cost and the present value of the economic benefits available in the form of any future refunds from the plan or reduction in future contribution to the plan.

The Company recognises all Remeasurement of net defined benefit liability/asset directly in other comprehensive income and presented within equity.

iii) Short term benefits

Short term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as a related service provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid under short term cash bonus or profit sharing plans if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

3.20 Lease

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The company has elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases of real estate properties that have a lease term of 12 months. The company recognises the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

3.21 Earnings per share

Basic and diluted earnings per share are computed by dividing the net profit attributable to equity shareholders for the year, by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

3.22 Dividend distribution

Dividend distribution to the equity holders is recognized as a liability in the Company's annual accounts in the year in which the dividends are approved by the Company's equity holders.

3.23 Research and Development expenditure

Expenditure on research is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Expenditure on development which does not meet the criteria for recognition as an intangible assets is recognised as an expense when it is incurred. Items of Property, Plant and Equipment and acquired Intangible assets are used for research and development are capitalised and depreciated in accordance with the policies stated for Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible assets.

3.24 Recent Pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 23, 2022, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2022, applicable from April 01, 2022, as below

• Ind AS 103 - Reference to Conceptual Framework

The amendments specify that to qualify for recognition as part of applying the acquisition method, the identifiable assets acquired, and liabilities assumed must meet the definitions of assets and liabilities in the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting under Indian Accounting Standards (Conceptual Framework) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India at the acquisition date. These changes do not significantly change the requirements of Ind AS 103. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its Financial Statements.

• Ind AS 16 - Proceeds before intended use

The amendments mainly prohibit an entity from deducting from the cost of property, plant and equipment amounts received from selling items produced while the Company is preparing the asset for its intended use. Instead, an entity will recognize such sales proceeds and related cost in profit or loss. The Company does not expect the amendments to have any material impact in its recognition of its property, plant and equipment in its Financial Statements

• Ind AS 37 - Onerous Contracts - Costs of Fulfilling a Contract

The amendments specify that the 'cost of fulfilling' a contract comprises the 'costs that relate directly to the contract'. Costs that relate directly to a contract can either be incremental costs of fulfilling that contract (examples would be direct labour, materials) or an allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling contracts. The amendment is essentially a clarification, and the Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its Financial Statements.

• Ind AS 109 - Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendment clarifies which fees an entity includes when it applies the '10 percent' test of Ind AS 109 in assessing whether to derecognise a financial liability. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its Financial Statements.

• Ind AS 106 - Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendments remove the illustration of the reimbursement of leasehold improvements by the lessor in order to resolve any potential confusion regarding the treatment of lease incentives that might arise because of how lease incentives were described in that illustration. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its Financial Statements.

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk, such as equity price risk and commodity risk. Financial instruments affected by market risk include loans and borrowings, deposits and derivative financial instruments.

Credit risk on financial assets

Financial assets that are potentially subject to concentrations of credit risk and failures by counterparties to discharge their obligations in full or in a timely manner consist principally of cash balances with banks, cash equivalents and receivables, and other financial assets. The maximum exposure to credit risk is: the total of the fair value of the financial instruments and the full amount of any loan payable commitment at the end of the reporting year. Credit risk on cash balances with banks is limited because the counterparties are entities with acceptable credit ratings. Credit risk on other financial assets is limited because the other parties are entities with acceptable credit ratings.
